Has Crop Programme.

Speaking of his crop programme, Comnissioner Greene said:

"If the law did not prevent the highway department from becoming merchant and actually selling material, we might find a way to make our highways pay a considerable part of the maintenance costs and to do this not at a detriment to the highways themselves but with actual benefit to them. "To maintain the shoulders which border both sides of the pavements of our roads now costs the State a con siderable sum. These shoulders could be improved and be made a source of revenue by being planted with alfalfa As is well known, it is not unusual to get three crops of alfalfa during the season, and if our shoulders, which are about the width of the blade of a mowing machine, were made to produce alfalfa, we could get more tons of good hay from them than the average person supposes.

"I am not a farmer, nor have I gone into the subject of alfalfa to any great extent, but I have been told that probably 4,000 of our 8,000 miles of improved roads run through land suitable for the raising of alfalfa. This would mean that we would have, counting both shoulders, a field of alfalfa eight miles long by three feet wide, equalling ap-proximately 3,000 acres. I do not have to point out how economically a crop which can be cut with the wheels of a mower running along a hard pavement can be gathered. I believe it would be at least 25 per cent, cheaper to harvest alfalfa from the shoulders of our roads than it would be to get the same amount of alfalfa from an ordinary field.

Fruit and Nut Trees.

"In addition to planting the shoul-ders, I would also like to plant fruit Bandy Hook. 12:08 A M Gov. Island. 12:41 A M Hell Gate..... 5:02 P M and nut bearing trees along both sides of our highways. The productive fruit or nuts from these trees would be ripened at just about the time we now lay off our patrolmen or repair gangs and instead of laying these men off they could be used to harvest the crops which the trees produce and with the number of trucks which the Government is now turning over to the department these crops could be quickly and economically transported to markets.

"The yield from trees planted along "The yield from trees planted along our highways represents but a small part of their value to the State. There are few things we can do toward lengthening the life of a road more effective than the planting of trees so that the pavement is shaded. On some of our midsummer days it is not unusual to find a temperature of from 115 to 125 forces on the pavement limit. degrees on the pavement itself where it is subjected to the direct rays of the sun, whereas the same pavement under the shade of a tree will show at the same time not more than 20 degrees of "It is during these hot days that we most frequently get our sudden showers. The temperature of the water from one of these showers runs from about 65 to 70 degrees. On an unshaded pavement 70 degrees. On an unshatted payons in the have, therefore, a sudden drop in temperature from say 120 degrees to 65 degrees, or 55 full degrees. On a systematic by the shade of pavement protected by the shade of trees we have a drop of from 90 to 60 degrees, or a total of 30 degrees, just one-half the change in temperature of an exposed payement.

"The stress and amount of shrinkage set up in a pavement which is sub-jected to the sudden change of 55 de road. Further than this, with an un-exposed pavement this sudden change retard the water to some extent and the pavement does not get the full rainfall at one blow
"I think this is a subject that is well worth looking into. If the State cannot go into the business of raising and sell-ing hay or products from trees we might at least consider leasing certain parts of our roads to farmers living along them or we might consider encouraging the farmer to plant trees along our roads allowing him to have the crops of these trees for his trouble. In some localities where it is impossible to raise affalfa we might raise Timothy or clover. "This idea is not so new as many people might suppose. Both in Germany and France the roadsides are utilized to produce productive crops. In France a great deal of the firewood used by the inhabitants is secured from highway trees. These are trimmed up very high and each fall the new shoots which have appeared during the summer are cut and ollected into fagot bundles. done under the supervision of the Na-tional Forest Service of the country."

DIPLOMAT'S HOME ROBBED.

James Swan Loses Some $4,000 in Jewelry. State constabulary investigated yesterday a burglary in the summer home of James Swan, a member of the British diplomatic service in this country, in South Salem. Westchester coloss is estimated between $3,000 and $4,000.

Swan, who is a buyer in the United States of supplies for Great Britain, has a town house in Riverside Drive. Servants going to the summer residence found that burgiars had removed a pane of glass from a window and then re-leased a catch. The loot taken, as described to Corporal A. F. Boyce of the Brewster station of the State constabulary, included a diamond lavalliere, diad rings, watches and other jewelry.
